

Index

Preface	i
List of Figures	v
List of Tables	vi
Abstract	1
1 Proposing trust as a new perspective on investment decision making	3
1.1 Current approaches to trust in investment decisions	10
1.2 Research on trust in psychology, sociology, and philosophy	13
1.2.1 Approaches to the concept of trust	16
1.2.2 Rational choice approaches	18
1.2.2.1 Game theoretical approaches to trust in psychology	19
1.2.2.2 Further rational choice approaches in social sciences	22
1.2.2.3 Is trust rational?	23
1.2.3 Trust research beyond rational choice	24
1.2.3.1 The evolution of trust and insights from developmental psychology	24
1.2.3.2 Trust as a personality disposition	26
1.2.3.3 Considerations from cognitive psychology	27
1.2.3.4 A system theoretic approach: trust as a reduction of complexity	29
1.2.3.5 Other approaches to trust beyond rational choice in social sciences ...	31
1.2.3.6 A broader perspective on trust	33
1.2.4 Research on decision heuristics	34
1.2.4.1 Cognitive heuristics	34
1.2.4.2 Affective heuristics	37
1.2.4.3 Trust as a decision heuristic	38
1.2.5 Trust in organizational and management research	39
1.2.6 The emotional aspect of trust	43
1.3 Towards a theory of trust in investment decisions	47
1.4 Interim conclusion	51
2 Applicability of the theory of trust to economics	55
2.1 Economic theory of investment decisions	59
2.1.1 Animal spirits	59
2.1.2 Classic finance theory	60
2.1.3 Other economic research on decision making	61
2.2 The rise of psychology: behavioral finance	64
2.2.1 The origin of behavioral finance	64
2.2.2 Main behavioral finance theories	66

2.3 Empirical evidence contradicting rational choice	68
2.3.1 Select anomalies from behavioral finance research.....	68
2.3.1.1 Equity premium puzzle.....	68
2.3.1.2 Volatility puzzle	69
2.3.1.3 Momentum effect and long-term reversal	69
2.3.1.4 Disposition effect.....	70
2.3.1.5 Closed-end fund puzzle	71
2.3.2 Further findings contradicting rational choice	71
2.3.2.1 Localized preferences.....	71
2.3.2.2 Investor mood	72
2.3.2.3 The impact of marketing on investor behavior	72
2.4 Employing the concept of trust for an alternative view on investment decisions	75
2.4.1 Previous approaches of investor confidence or sentiment.....	75
2.4.2 Proposing trust as an integrative concept for investment decisions.....	77
2.5 Interim conclusion	82
3 An empirical analysis of the role of trust in investment decisions.....	83
3.1 Approach and propositions	86
3.2 Method	89
3.2.1 Definition of the investment situation.....	89
3.2.2 Variables	91
3.2.3 Data preparation.....	92
3.2.4 Statistical model	94
3.3 Results	99
3.3.1 Stability of trust.....	99
3.3.2 The impact of trust during crisis	101
3.3.3 The impact of trust during market boom.....	106
3.4 Robustness tests.....	110
3.4.1 Inclusion of random intercepts	110
3.4.2 Test of a linear impact of trust and stronger contrasts	114
3.4.3 Data preparation procedures.....	118
3.4.4 Further predictors	122
3.4.5 Using a simple OLS model as alternative	127
3.4.6 Trust during dot.com crash and 9/11.....	131
4 Conclusion.....	137
Appendix	149
Reference List	161