Table of Content

Acknowledgements       11         1       Introduction       13         1.1       The Research Objective       16         1.2       Argument       17         1.3       The Problem Statement       19         1.3.1       Women's Rights and Family Law       22         1.3.2       State Policies and Liberal Feminism Premises       24         1.4       The Research Contribution       26         2       Theoretical Framework       27         2.1.1       Radical Feminism       28         2.1.2       Socialist Feminism       28         2.1.3       Global Feminism       29         2.1.4       Black Feminism       30         A Combination of Classic and Recent Thought       34         2.3       How to Reach the Goals of Liberal Feminism       30         3.1       Citzenship       31         3.1.2       Status and Social Practices: Privileging a Masculine Citizenship       31         3.2.2       Legal Status and Social Practices: Privileging a Masculine Citizenship       31         3.2.3.1       The Nethodology       56         4.1       Women's Status in the Arab World       45         3.2.3.2       Statu Intervention in Women's Rights:	List	of Acron	yms	10
1.1       The Research Objective       16         1.2       Argument       17         1.3       The Problem Statement       19         1.3.1       Women's Rights and Family Law       22         1.3.2       State Policies and Liberal Feminism Premises       24         1.4.       The Research Contribution       26         2       Theoretical Framework       27         2.1.1       Radical Feminism       28         2.1.2       Socialist Feminism       28         2.1.3       Global Feminism       29         2.1.4       Black Feminism       29         2.1.4       Black Feminism       30         2.2       Liberal Feminism       30         3.1       Citizenship and International Human Rights       31         3.2       Situational Analysis of Citizenship in the Arab World       44         3.2.1       Women's Status in the Arab World       45         3.2.2       Legal Status and Social Practices: Privileging a Masculine Citizenship       31         3.3.3       State Interventi of the State       51         3.2.3.3       State Interventi of the State       51         3.2.3.3       State Interventi in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54 <th>Ackı</th> <th>nowledge</th> <th>ments</th> <th>11</th>	Ackı	nowledge	ments	11
1.2       Argument       17         1.3       The Problem Statement       19         1.3.1       Women's Rights and Family Law       12         1.3.2       State Policies and Liberal Feminism Premises       24         1.4       The Research Contribution       26         2       Theoretical Framework       27         2.1       Approaches of Feminism       28         2.1.2       Socialist Feminism       28         2.1.3       Global Feminism       29         2.1.4       Black Feminism       30         2.2       Liberal Feminism       30         2.3       How to Reach the Goals of Liberal Feminism       30         3.1       Citzenship and International Human Rights       32         3.2       Situational Analysis of Citizenship in the Arab World       44         3.2.1       Logal Status and Social Practices: Privileging a Masculine Citizenship       51         3.2.3.1       The Neture of the State       51       32.3.3         3.2.3       State and Women: Whose Interests?       52       32.3.3       State Intervention in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54         4       The Methodology       56       41.1       Qualitative Comparison Research       56 <th>1</th> <th>Introdu</th> <th>ction</th> <th>13</th>	1	Introdu	ction	13
1.2       Argument       17         1.3       The Problem Statement       19         1.3.1       Women's Rights and Family Law       22         1.3.2       State Policies and Liberal Feminism Premises       24         1.4       The Research Contribution       26         2       Theoretical Framework       27         2.1       Radical Feminism       28         2.1.2       Socialist Feminism       28         2.1.3       Global Feminism       29         2.1.4       Black Feminism       29         2.1.4       Black Feminism       30         2.1.4       Black Feminism       30         2.1.4       Black Feminism       30         3.1.4       Blernition of Classic and Recent Thought       34         2.3       How to Reach the Goals of Liberal Feminism       36         3       Definition of Clitzenship       39         3.1       Citzenship and International Human Rights       32.         3.2.3       The Role of the State in Shaping Citizenship       31         3.2.3.1       The Nature of the State in Shaping Citizenship       51         3.2.3.2.3       State Intervention in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54	1.1	The Res	earch Objective	16
1.3.1       Women's Rights and Family Law       22         1.3.2       State Policies and Liberal Feminism Premises       24         1.4       The Research Contribution       26         2       Theoretical Framework       27         2.1       Approaches of Feminism       27         2.1.1       Radical Feminism       28         2.1.2       Socialist Feminism       28         2.1.3       Global Feminism       29         2.1.4       Black Feminism       30         2.2       Liberal Feminism       30         2.3       How to Reach the Goals of Liberal Feminism       30         3.1       Citizenship and International Human Rights       39         3.1.2       Situational Analysis of Citizenship in the Arab World       44         3.2.1       Legal Status and Social Practices: Privileging a Masculine Citizenship       51         3.2.3.1       The Nature of the State in Shaping Citizenship       51         3.2.3.2       State and Women. Whose Interests?       52         3.2.3.3       State Intervention in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54         4       The Methodology       56       51         4.1       Qualitative Comparison Research       56	1.2			17
1.3.2       State Policies and Liberal Feminism Premises       24         1.4       The Research Contribution       26         2       Theoretical Framework       27         2.1       Approaches of Feminism       28         2.1.1       Radical Feminism       28         2.1.2       Socialist Feminism       28         2.1.3       Global Feminism       29         2.1.4       Black Feminism       30         2.1       Liberal Feminism       30         2.3       How to Reach the Goals of Liberal Feminism       36         3       Definition of Citizenship       39         3.1       Citzenship and International Human Rights       31         3.2.1       Women's Status in the Arab World       44         3.2.2       Legal Status and Social Practices: Privileging a Masculine Citizenship       48         3.2.3       The Nature of the State       51         3.2.3.1       The Nature of the State       51         3.2.3.2       State Intervention in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54         4       The Methodology       56         4.1       Qualitative Comparison Research       56         4.2       Research Methods       57	1.3	The Pro	blem Statement	19
1.4       The Research Contribution       26         2       Theoretical Framework       27         2.1       Approaches of Feminism       27         2.1.1       Radical Feminism       28         2.1.2       Socialist Feminism       28         2.1.3       Global Feminism       29         2.1.4       Black Feminism       30         2.2       Liberal Feminism       30         2.3       How to Reach the Goals of Liberal Feminism       36         3       Definition of Citizenship       39         3.1       Citzenship and International Human Rights       32.2         3.2       Situational Analysis of Citizenship in the Arab World       44         3.2.1       Women's Status in the Arab World       44         3.2.2       Legal Status and Social Practices: Privileging a Masculine Citizenship       31         3.2.3       The Nature of the State       51         3.2.3.1       The Neature of the State       51         3.2.3.2       State and Women: Whose Interests?       52         3.2.3.3       State Intervention in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54         4       The Methodology       56         4.1       Qualitative Comparison Research
2       Theoretical Framework       27         2.1.1       Radical Feminism       27         2.1.1       Radical Feminism       28         2.1.2       Socialist Feminism       29         2.1.4       Black Feminism       29         2.1.4       Black Feminism       30         2.2       Liberal Feminism       30         2.3       How to Reach the Goals of Liberal Feminism       30         3       Definition of Citizenship       39         3.1       Citzenship and International Human Rights       32         2.3       Itown's Status in the Arab World       44         3.2.1       Women's Status in the Arab World       44         3.2.3       The Role of the State       51         3.2.3.3       The Nature of the State       51         3.2.3.3       State Intervention in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54         4       The Methodology       56         4.1       Qualitative Comparison Research       56         4.2.1       Sampling Techniques       59         4.2.1.1       Elite Interview       59         4.2.1       Sampling Techniques       59         4.2.1       Sampling Techniques       59
2.1       Approaches of Feminism       27         2.1.1       Radical Feminism       28         2.1.2       Socialist Feminism       28         2.1.3       Global Feminism       29         2.1.4       Black Feminism       30         2.2       Liberal Feminism       30         2.3       How to Reach the Goals of Liberal Feminism       30         3       Definition of Citizenship       39         3.1       Citzenship and International Human Rights       31         3.2       Situational Analysis of Citizenship in the Arab World       44         3.2.1       Women's Status in the Arab World       45         3.2.2       Legal Status and Social Practices: Privileging a Masculine Citizenship       31         3.2.3       The Role of the State in Shaping Citizenship       51         3.2.3.1       The Nole of the State in Shaping Citizenship       52         3.2.3.3       State Intervention in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54         4.1       Qualitative Comparison Research       56         4.1       Qualitative Comparison Research       57         94.2.1.2       Sampling Techniques       59         4.2.1       Sampling Techniques       59         4.2.1	1.4	The Res	earch Contribution	26
2.1.1       Radical Feminism       28         2.1.2       Socialist Feminism       28         2.1.3       Global Feminism       29         2.1.4       Black Feminism       30         A Combination of Classic and Recent Thought       34         2.3       How to Reach the Goals of Liberal Feminism       30         3       Definition of Citizenship       39         3.1       Citzenship and International Human Rights       31         3.2.1       Women's Status in the Arab World       44         3.2.2       Legal Status and Social Practices: Privileging a Masculine Citizenship       48         3.2.3       The Role of the State in Shaping Citizenship       51         3.2.3.1       The Role of the State       51         3.2.3.2       State and Women: Whose Interests?       52         3.2.3.3       State Intervention in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54         4.1       Qualitative Comparison Research       56         4.2       Research Methods       57         Data Collecting Method: Semi-Structured Interviews       57         4.2.1       Sampling Techniques       59         4.2.1.2       Snowhall Sampling       61         4.3       Data Content Analysis	2	Theoret	ical Framework	27
2.1.2       Socialist Feminism       28         2.1.3       Global Feminism       29         2.1.4       Black Feminism       30         2.2       Liberal Feminism       30         2.3       How to Reach the Goals of Liberal Feminism       36         3       Definition of Citizenship       39         3.1       Citzenship and International Human Rights       39         3.1       Citzenship and International Human Rights       44         3.2.1       Women's Status in the Arab World       44         3.2.2       Legal Status and Social Practices: Privileging a Masculine Citizenship       41         3.2.3       The Role of the State       51         3.2.3.1       The Nature of the State       51         3.2.3.2       State Intervention in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54         4       The Methodology       56         4.1       Qualitative Comparison Research       56         4.2       Research Methods       57         59       4.2.1.2       Sampling Techniques       59         4.2.1.2       Samoball Sampling       61         4.3       Data Content Analysis       62         5       Citizenship in the Jordanian Legislation and in	2.1
2.1.3       Global Feminism       29         2.1.4       Black Feminism       30         2.2       Liberal Feminism       30         A Combination of Classic and Recent Thought       34         3.4       How to Reach the Goals of Liberal Feminism       36         3       Definition of Citizenship       39         3.1       Citzenship and International Human Rights       32         2.2       Legal Status and Social Practices: Privileging a Masculine Citizenship       44         3.2.2.1       Women's Status in the Arab World       44         3.2.3       The Role of the State       51         3.2.3.1       The Nature of the State       51         3.2.3.2       State Intervention in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54         4       The Methodology       56         4.1       Qualitative Comparison Research       56         4.2       Research Methods       57         Data Collecting Method: Semi-Structured Interviews       59         4.2.1.2       Snowhall Sampling       61         4.3       Data Content Analysis       62         5.4       The Development of Comparison Categories       63         5.5       Citizenship in the Jordanian Legislation and in Women
2.1.4       Black Feminism       30         A Combination of Classic and Recent Thought       34         2.3       How to Reach the Goals of Liberal Feminism       36         3       Definition of Citizenship       39         3.1       Citzenship and International Human Rights       37         3.2.2       Legal Status in the Arab World       44         3.2.1       Women's Status in the Arab World       44         3.2.2       Legal Status and Social Practices: Privileging a Masculine Citizenship       51         3.2.3       The Role of the State in Shaping Citizenship       51         3.2.3.1       The Nole of the State       52         3.2.3       State and Women: Whose Interests?       52         3.2.3.3       State Intervention in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54         4       The Methodology       56         4.1       Qualitative Comparison Research       56         4.2       Research Methods       57         5.1       Sampling Techniques       59         4.2.1       Sampling Techniques       59         4.2.1.2       Snowball Sampling       61         4.3       Data Content Analysis       62         5.4       The Development of Comparison
2.2       Liberal Feminism       30         A Combination of Classic and Recent Thought       34         2.3       How to Reach the Goals of Liberal Feminism       36         3       Definition of Citizenship       39         3.1       Citzenship and International Human Rights       39         3.2       Situational Analysis of Citizenship in the Arab World       44         3.2.1       Women's Status in the Arab World       45         3.2.2       Legal Status and Social Practices: Privileging a Masculine Citizenship       51         3.2.3.1       The Role of the State in Shaping Citizenship       51         3.2.3.2       State and Women' Whose Interests?       52         3.2.3.3       State Intervention in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54         4       The Methodology       56         4.1       Qualitative Comparison Research       56         4.2       Research Methods       57         5.1.1       Elite Interview       59         4.2.1.2       Snowball Sampling       61         4.3       Data Content Analysis       62         4.4       The Development of Comparison Categories       63         4.5       Obstacles during the Field Work       65
A Combination of Classic and Recent Thought       34         2.3       How to Reach the Goals of Liberal Feminism       36         3       Definition of Citizenship       39         3.1       Citzenship and International Human Rights       44         3.2.1       Women's Status in the Arab World       45         3.2.2       Legal Status and Social Practices: Privileging a Masculine Citizenship       51         3.2.3       The Role of the State       51         3.2.3.1       The Nature of the State       51         3.2.3.2       State and Women: Whose Interests?       52         3.2.3.3       State Intervention in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54         4       The Methodology       56         4.1       Qualitative Comparison Research       56         4.2       Research Methods       57         9       4.2.1.1       Sampling Techniques       59         4.2.1.2       Snowball Sampling       61         4.3       Data Collecting Method: Semi-Structured Interviews       59         4.2.1.2       Snowball Sampling       61         4.3       Data Content Analysis       62         4.4       The Development of Comparison Categories       63         5.5<
2.3       How to Reach the Goals of Liberal Feminism       36         3       Definition of Citizenship       39         3.1       Citzenship and International Human Rights       44         3.2.       Situational Analysis of Citizenship in the Arab World       44         3.2.1       Women's Status in the Arab World       45         3.2.2       Legal Status and Social Practices: Privileging a Masculine Citizenship       48         3.2.3       The Role of the State in Shaping Citizenship       51         3.2.3.1       The Nature of the State       51         3.2.3.2       State and Women: Whose Interests?       52         3.2.3.3       State Intervention in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54         4       The Methodology       56         4.1       Qualitative Comparison Research       56         4.2       Research Methods       57         Data Collecting Method: Semi-Structured Interviews       57         4.2.1       Sampling Techniques       59         4.2.1.1       Elite Interview       59         4.2.1.2       Snowball Sampling       61         4.3       Data Content Analysis       62         5.4       The Development of Comparison Categories       63	2.2	Liberal l
3       Definition of Citizenship       39         3.1       Citzenship and International Human Rights       44         3.2.       Situational Analysis of Citizenship in the Arab World       44         3.2.1       Women's Status in the Arab World       45         3.2.2       Legal Status and Social Practices: Privileging a Masculine Citizenship       48         3.2.3       The Role of the State in Shaping Citizenship       51         3.2.3.1       The Nature of the State       51         3.2.3.2       State and Women: Whose Interests?       52         3.2.3.3       State Intervention in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54         4       The Methodology       56         4.1       Qualitative Comparison Research       56         4.2       Research Methods       57         Data Collecting Method: Semi-Structured Interviews       57         4.1.1       Elite Interview       59         4.2.1.2       Snowball Sampling       61         4.3       Data Content Analysis       62         4.4       The Development of Comparison Categories       63         4.5       Obstacles during the Field Work       65         5       Citizenship in the Jordanian Legislation and in Women's Practice	2.2	TT (
3.1       Citzenship and International Human Rights         3.2       Situational Analysis of Citizenship in the Arab World       44         3.2.1       Women's Status in the Arab World       45         3.2.2       Legal Status and Social Practices: Privileging a Masculine Citizenship       48         3.2.3       The Role of the State in Shaping Citizenship       51         3.2.3.1       The Nature of the State       51         3.2.3.2       State and Women's Nights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54         4       The Methodology       56         4.1       Qualitative Comparison Research       56         4.2       Research Methods       57         4.2.1       Sampling Techniques       59         4.2.1.1       Elite Interview       59         4.2.1.2       Snowball Sampling       61         4.3       Data Content Analysis       62         4.4       The Development of Comparison Categories       63         4.5       Obstacles during the Field Work       65         5       Citizenship in the Jordanian Legislation and in Women's Practice       67         5.1       The Political System       68         5.2.1       Legislative Biased Statements Regarding Citizenship       70
3.2       Situational Analysis of Citizenship in the Arab World       44         3.2.1       Women's Status in the Arab World       45         3.2.2       Legal Status and Social Practices: Privileging a Masculine Citizenship       48         3.2.3       The Role of the State in Shaping Citizenship       51         3.2.3.1       The Nature of the State       51         3.2.3.2       State and Women: Whose Interests?       52         3.2.3.3       State Intervention in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54         4       The Methodology       56         4.1       Qualitative Comparison Research       56         4.2.1       Sampling Techniques       57         4.2.1       Sampling Techniques       59         4.2.1.1       Elite Interview       59         4.2.1.2       Snowball Sampling       61         4.3       Data Content Analysis       62         4.4       The Poleopment of Comparison Categories       63         4.5       Obstacles during the Field Work       65         5       Citizenship in the Jordanian Legislation and in Women's Practice       67         5.1       The Political System       68         5.2.1       Legislative Biased Statements Regarding Citizenship		Definiti	on of Citizenship	39
3.2.1       Women's Status in the Arab World       45         3.2.2       Legal Status and Social Practices: Privileging a Masculine Citizenship       48         3.2.3       The Role of the State in Shaping Citizenship       51         3.2.3.1       The Nature of the State       51         3.2.3.2       State and Women: Whose Interests?       52         3.2.3.3       State Intervention in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54         4       The Methodology       56         4.1       Qualitative Comparison Research       56         4.2       Research Methods       57         Data Collecting Method: Semi-Structured Interviews       59         4.2.1.1       Elite Interview       59         4.2.1.2       Snowball Sampling       61         4.3       Data Content Analysis       62         4.4       The Development of Comparison Categories       63         4.5       Obstacles during the Field Work       65         5       Citizenship in the Jordanian Legislation and in Women's Practice       67         5.2.1       Legislative Biased Statements Regarding Citizenship       70         5.2.1.1       Civil and Political Rights       73         5.2.1.2       Economic Rights       73 </td <td></td> <td colspan="4">- · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·</td>		- · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
3.2.2       Legal Status and Social Practices: Privileging a Masculine Citizenship       48         3.2.3       The Role of the State in Shaping Citizenship       51         3.2.3.1       The Nature of the State       51         3.2.3.2       State and Women: Whose Interests?       52         3.2.3.3       State Intervention in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54         4       The Methodology       56         4.1       Qualitative Comparison Research       56         4.2       Research Methods       57         Data Collecting Method: Semi-Structured Interviews       59         4.2.1.1       Sampling Techniques       59         4.2.1.2       Snowball Sampling       61         4.3       Data Content Analysis       62         4.4       The Development of Comparison Categories       63         4.5       Obstacles during the Field Work       65         5       Citizenship in the Jordanian Legislation and in Women's Practice       67         5.2.1       Legislative Biased Statements Regarding Citizenship       73         5.2.1.1       Civil and Political Rights       73         Nationality Law       74       74         9       S.2.1.2       Economic Rights       76     <	3.2		•
3.2.3       The Role of the State in Shaping Citizenship       51         3.2.3.1       The Nature of the State       51         3.2.3.2       State and Women: Whose Interests?       52         3.2.3.3       State Intervention in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54         4       The Methodology       56         4.1       Qualitative Comparison Research       56         4.2       Research Methods       57         Data Collecting Method: Semi-Structured Interviews       57         4.2.1       Sampling Techniques       59         4.2.1.1       Elite Interview       59         4.2.1.2       Snowball Sampling       61         4.3       Data Content Analysis       62         4.4       The Development of Comparison Categories       63         4.5       Obstacles during the Field Work       65         5       Citizenship in the Jordanian Legislation and in Women's Practice       67         5.1       The Political System       68         5.2       The Legal Aspect of Women's Citizenship       70         5.2.1.1       Civil and Political Rights       73         Nationality Law       73       73         5.2.1.2       Economic Rights       76
3.2.3.1       The Nature of the State       51         3.2.3.2       State and Women: Whose Interests?       52         3.2.3.3       State Intervention in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54         4       The Methodology       56         4.1       Qualitative Comparison Research       56         4.2       Research Methods       57         Data Collecting Method: Semi-Structured Interviews       57         4.2.1       Sampling Techniques       59         4.2.1.2       Snowball Sampling       61         4.3       Data Content Analysis       62         4.4       The Development of Comparison Categories       63         4.5       Obstacles during the Field Work       65         5       Citizenship in the Jordanian Legislation and in Women's Practice       67         5.1       The Political System       68         5.2.1       Legislative Biased Statements Regarding Citizenship       73         5.2.1.1       Civil and Political Rights       73         Nationality Law       73       73         Passport Law       74       74         Election Law       75       5.2.1.2       Economic Rights         1. Abour Law       76       76
3.2.3.2       State and Women: Whose Interests?       52         3.2.3.3       State Intervention in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54         4       The Methodology       56         4.1       Qualitative Comparison Research       56         4.2       Research Methods       57         Data Collecting Method: Semi-Structured Interviews       57         4.2.1       Sampling Techniques       59         4.2.1.2       Snowball Sampling       61         4.3       Data Content Analysis       62         4.4       The Development of Comparison Categories       63         4.5       Obstacles during the Field Work       65         5       Citizenship in the Jordanian Legislation and in Women's Practice       67         5.1       The Political System       68         5.2       The Legal Aspect of Women's Citizenship       70         5.2.1.1       Civil and Political Rights       73         Nationality Law       73       73         Passport Law       75         5.2.1.2       Economic Rights       76         Labour Law       76
3.2.3.3       State Intervention in Women's Rights: Empowering or Entrapping?       54         4       The Methodology       56         4.1       Qualitative Comparison Research       56         4.2       Research Methods       57         Data Collecting Method: Semi-Structured Interviews       57         4.2.1       Sampling Techniques       59         4.2.1.1       Elite Interview       59         4.2.1.2       Snowball Sampling       61         4.3       Data Content Analysis       62         4.4       The Development of Comparison Categories       63         4.5       Obstacles during the Field Work       65         5       Citizenship in the Jordanian Legislation and in Women's Practice       67         5.1       The Political System       68         5.2       The Legal Aspect of Women's Citizenship       70         5.2.1.1       Civil and Political Rights       73         Nationality Law       73       73         Passport Law       74       74         Labour Law       76
4.1Qualitative Comparison Research564.2Research Methods57Data Collecting Method: Semi-Structured Interviews574.2.1Sampling Techniques594.2.1.1Elite Interview594.2.1.2Snowball Sampling614.3Data Content Analysis624.4The Development of Comparison Categories634.5Obstacles during the Field Work655Citizenship in the Jordanian Legislation and in Women's Practice675.1The Political System685.2The Legal Aspect of Women's Citizenship705.2.1Legislative Biased Statements Regarding Citizenship73S.2.1.1Civil and Political Rights73Nationality Law7474Election Law75765.2.1.2Economic Rights76Labour Law76
4.2Research Methods57Data Collecting Method: Semi-Structured Interviews574.2.1Sampling Techniques594.2.1.1Elite Interview594.2.1.2Snowball Sampling614.3Data Content Analysis624.4The Development of Comparison Categories634.5Obstacles during the Field Work655Citizenship in the Jordanian Legislation and in Women's Practice675.1The Political System685.2The Legal Aspect of Women's Citizenship705.2.1Legislative Biased Statements Regarding Citizenship73S.2.1.1Civil and Political Rights73Nationality Law7474Election Law75755.2.1.2Economic Rights76Labour Law76	4	The Me	thodology	56
Data Collecting Method: Semi-Structured Interviews574.2.1Sampling Techniques594.2.1.1Elite Interview594.2.1.2Snowball Sampling614.3Data Content Analysis624.4The Development of Comparison Categories634.5Obstacles during the Field Work655Citizenship in the Jordanian Legislation and in Women's Practice675.1The Political System685.2The Legal Aspect of Women's Citizenship705.2.1Legislative Biased Statements Regarding Citizenship735.2.1.1Civil and Political Rights73Nationality Law7474Election Law75755.2.1.2Economic Rights76Labour Law76	4.1	Qualitat	ive Comparison Research	56
4.2.1Sampling Techniques594.2.1.1Elite Interview594.2.1.2Snowball Sampling614.3Data Content Analysis624.4The Development of Comparison Categories634.5Obstacles during the Field Work655Citizenship in the Jordanian Legislation and in Women's Practice675.1The Political System685.2The Legal Aspect of Women's Citizenship705.2.1Legislative Biased Statements Regarding Citizenship735.2.1.1Civil and Political Rights73Nationality Law74Election Law5.2.1.2Economic Rights76Labour Law76	4.2
4.2.1.1Elite Interview594.2.1.2Snowball Sampling614.3Data Content Analysis624.4The Development of Comparison Categories634.5Obstacles during the Field Work655Citizenship in the Jordanian Legislation and in Women's Practice675.1The Political System685.2The Legal Aspect of Women's Citizenship705.2.1Legislative Biased Statements Regarding Citizenship735.2.1.1Civil and Political Rights73Nationality Law73Passport Law74Election Law755.2.1.2Economic Rights76Labour Law76			•
4.2.1.2Snowball Sampling614.3Data Content Analysis624.4The Development of Comparison Categories634.5Obstacles during the Field Work655Citizenship in the Jordanian Legislation and in Women's Practice675.1The Political System685.2The Legal Aspect of Women's Citizenship705.2.1Legislative Biased Statements Regarding Citizenship735.2.1.1Civil and Political Rights73Nationality Law73Passport Law74Election Law755.2.1.2Economic Rights76Labour Law76
<ul> <li>4.3 Data Content Analysis</li> <li>4.4 The Development of Comparison Categories</li> <li>4.5 Obstacles during the Field Work</li> <li>5 Citizenship in the Jordanian Legislation and in Women's Practice</li> <li>5.1 The Political System</li> <li>5.2 The Legal Aspect of Women's Citizenship</li> <li>5.2.1 Legislative Biased Statements Regarding Citizenship</li> <li>5.2.1.1 Civil and Political Rights</li> <li>Nationality Law</li> <li>Passport Law</li> <li>Election Law</li> <li>5.2.1.2 Economic Rights</li> <li>Labour Law</li> <li>76</li> </ul>
4.4The Development of Comparison Categories634.5Obstacles during the Field Work655Citizenship in the Jordanian Legislation and in Women's Practice675.1The Political System685.2The Legal Aspect of Women's Citizenship705.2.1Legislative Biased Statements Regarding Citizenship735.2.1.1Civil and Political Rights73Nationality Law73Passport Law74Election Law755.2.1.2Economic Rights76Labour Law76	12
4.5Obstacles during the Field Work655Citizenship in the Jordanian Legislation and in Women's Practice675.1The Political System685.2The Legal Aspect of Women's Citizenship705.2.1Legislative Biased Statements Regarding Citizenship735.2.1.1Civil and Political Rights73Nationality Law73Passport Law74Election Law755.2.1.2Economic Rights76Labour Law76			•
5Citizenship in the Jordanian Legislation and in Women's Practice675.1The Political System685.2The Legal Aspect of Women's Citizenship705.2.1Legislative Biased Statements Regarding Citizenship735.2.1.1Civil and Political Rights73Nationality Law73Passport Law74Election Law755.2.1.2Economic Rights76Labour Law76
5.1The Political System685.2The Legal Aspect of Women's Citizenship705.2.1Legislative Biased Statements Regarding Citizenship735.2.1.1Civil and Political Rights73Nationality Law73Passport Law74Election Law755.2.1.2Economic Rights76Labour Law76			C
5.2The Legal Aspect of Women's Citizenship705.2.1Legislative Biased Statements Regarding Citizenship735.2.1.1Civil and Political Rights73Nationality Law73Passport Law74Election Law755.2.1.2Economic Rights76Labour Law76
5.2.1Legislative Biased Statements Regarding Citizenship735.2.1.1Civil and Political Rights73Nationality Law73Passport Law74Election Law755.2.1.2Economic Rights76Labour Law76
5.2.1.1Civil and Political Rights73Nationality Law73Passport Law74Election Law755.2.1.2Economic Rights76Labour Law76	5.2	-
Nationality Law73Passport Law74Election Law755.2.1.2Economic Rights76Labour Law76
Passport Law 74 Election Law 75 5.2.1.2 Economic Rights 76 Labour Law 76		J.2.1.1	•
5.2.1.2Economic Rights76Labour Law76			Passport Law	74
Labour Law 76		.
		5.2.1.2
Social Security			Social Security	70 77

		Retirement Law	78
		Civil Service Law	78
	5.2.1.3	Social Rights	79 70
		Family Law Polygamy and Different Religion Marriage	79 80
		Rights and Responsibilities during Marriage	80
		Guardianship, Wardship and Trusteeship of Children	80
		Inheritance	81
		Penal Code: Honour Killing	81
	5.2.2	Legal Reforms: Towards Positive or Negative Reforms	82
5.3	The Prac	ctical Aspects of Women's Citizenship	87
	5.3.1	Legislation Process	88
	5.3.1.1	Introduction of Legislation to the Agenda of the Parliament	89
	5.3.1.2	The Debate of Women's Rights in the Parliament	89
	5.3.2 5.3.2.1	Jordanian Women Representation in the Political and Public Life Participation in the Legislative Authority	93 93
	5.5.2.1	The Jordanian National Committee for Women JNCW and the Quota system	93 94
	5.3.2.2	Participation in Executive Authority	96
	5.3.2.3	Participation in the Judiciary Authority	97
	5.3.2.4	Participation in the Foreign Affairs	97
6	Citizens	hip in the Bahraini Legislation and in Women's Practice in a
	Compar	rative Perspective	99
6.1	Political	system	100
	6.1.1	The Constitutional Court	102
	6.1.2	Constitutional Provisions of Equality before the Law in a Comparative
		Perspective: Is It a Liberal Definition of Citizenship?	104
6.2	The Leg	al Aspect of Women's Citizenship	106
	6.2.1	Discriminative Legislative Statements Disregard Women's Citizenship	108
	6.2.1.1	Civil and Political Rights	108
		Nationality Law	108
		Passport Law	110
	6.2.1.2	Election Law Economic Rights	110 112
	0.2.1.2	The Diplomatic Code Law	112
		Labour Law	113
		Retirement Law	114
		Civil Service Law	115
		Social Security Law	115 115
	6.2.1.3	Housing Law Social Rights	115
	0.2.11.5	Sunni Group's Family Affairs towards Improvement	116
		Age of Marriage	119
		Polygamy	119
		Marriage of Different Religion	119
		Guardianship Marital Obedience	120 120
		Divorce	120
		Unequal Rights in Inheritance	121
		Penal Code: Violence against Women	122
	6.2.2	Past Law Reforms	123
		Social Rights in a Comparative Context	125 128
6.3	The Practical Aspect of Bahraini Women's Citizenship
	6.3.1	Women in the Parliament	128
	6.3.1.1	Legislations Introduction to the Agenda of the Parliament	130
	6.3.1.2	The Context of Formulating the Family Law Draft Historical Background: The Public Debate	132 132
		Formulating the Draft	132
		Legislators and Debating Women's Rights: The Family Law	134

	6.3.2	Women Representation in the Political and Public Life	135
	6.3.2.1	Participation in the Parliament	136
		The Supreme Council's for Women (SCW) Point of View towards Quota	136
	6.3.2.2	Participation in the Government	138
	6.3.2.3	Participation in the Judiciary	138
	6.3.2.4	Participation in the Foreign Affairs	139
	6.3.2.5	Parliament Structure, Debating Family Law and Different Groups (Sunni, Shi'ite)
		Women Political Participation: Jordan and Bahrain	140
		Parliament Organisational Structure	141 141
		Lobbying Number of MPs and the Nature of the Parliament	141
		Advocacy	142
		Debating Family Law and Different Groups (Shi'ite and Sunni)	145
		Women's Political Participation in Jordan and in Bahrain: Legislators,
		Ministers, Judges	147
6.4	Differe	nt Interpretations of Women's Rights in CEDAW	153
0.1	Differe	The Role of Leadership in Jordan and in Bahrain, and NGOs that Peruse	100
		Country Policies Supporting Women's Rights	155
		JNCW and SCW: Different Points of View with Respect to the Quota	155
7	Conclu	sion	158
7.1	Obstacl	es Facing Women in Realising Their Rights In Jordan and In
	Bahrair		160
7.2		ot of Considered Suggestions	161
8	Refere		163
-			171
		Pilot Research in Jordan
App	endix B:	Jordan Field Research	173
App	endix C:	Bahrain Field Research Report 9-19/ 4/ 2010	174
App	endix D	Interviews Questions	176
Secti	on $A - C$	Dbjective One	176
Secti	Section B – Objective Two
	Section C – Objective Three
		Dijective Four	177
	Section E – Objective Five
		5	177 177
	on F – L	Decision-Making Process	1//	