

Foreword

This work represents a cumulative dissertation and includes several recently published research articles originating from the author's doctoral project. For purposes of a consistent embodiment and a consecutive classification, the reference citation style, the figure and table captions as well as the equation numberings were adapted to the format of the entire document. The references cited in the particular articles are integrated in a collective reference section.